"DRY AMERICA" PROGRAM.

Ex-Governor Patterson and Dr.
Swadener Give Interesting
Talk.

There was a good audience of men and women at the town hall Thursday evening to listen to the "Dry America" program that was carried out by ex-Gov. M. R. Patterson of Tennessee and Dr. Madison Swadener of Indiana. The members of the College Quartet assisted in the program with several vocal selections. Dr. Swadener, who is national lecturer of the Anti-Saloon league of America, told the audience how to win national prohibition. He laid stress on the strong trend toward prohibition in the business and economic world and called attention to the great progress state-wide prohibition has made recently among the States: there are now nineteen dry States in the Union, ten of them having joined the ranks of prohibition States in the last two years.

Governor Patterson's address was very informal but it gripped his audience from start to finish. It was the message of a man who served Tennessee in Congress six years and as governor four years and who was formerly an ardent advocate of local option. "Local option," he declared, "means license not liberty. For the local optionists to state that a prohibition law cannot be enforced is for them to challenge the intelligence and patriotism of every citizen within the State." Since Tennessee went dry, in 1909, business has been in better condition than previously and it is impossible to find a place where liquor is sold from the mountains to the Mississippi river.

NEW COLLEGE TRUSTEES.

At the meeting of the Trustees of Middlebury College in New York last Friday three new trustees were elected. They are Judge Frank L. Fish, of Vergennes, Sanford H. Lane, '05, of Ottawa, Canada, and Percival Wilds, '02, of New York City. The college has lost three trustees by death recently. Governor Stewart, Governor McCullough, and Hon. Joseph Battell. No number of trustees is specified in the charter, but it is the policy of the college to keep about the same number. The three new men are well and favorably known in this vicinity and among the alumni of the college and will undoubtedly strengthen the institution.

W. F. HAMMOND INJURED IN FALL.

W. F. Hammond, superintendent of the United States Morgan Horse farm at Weybridge, was seriously injured Friday afternoon when he slipped and fell on his back. Dr. S. S. Eddy was hastily summoned and on examination it was decided to call Dr. J. B. Wheeler of Burlington. After a consultation it was thought best to take the patient to the Mary Fletcher hospital. Mr. Hammond began to gain steadily and it was decided that an operation was not necessary. He was able to be removed to his home Wednesday, where he is resting comfortably and a speedy recovery is looked for.

FAILED TO SHOW LICENSE.

John Donahue of Vergennes was brought before Judge James B. Donahue and fined $5 and costs of $5.95 for failing to show a hunter's license. Donahue was found in the woods near Lake Dunmore, and when asked by Game Warden George H. Chaffee to show his license, stated that it was at home. It has been the custom of the wardens, if they knew the party, to allow him to send his license within a reasonable time to the warden. Donahue failed to keep the agreement, hence the prosecution.

MIDDLEBURY FARMERS' MEETING.

A very successful farmers' meeting was held in the white school house east of Middlebury village on the night of Wednesday, January 26. It was voted to have another meeting February 18. This meeting will probably be held in the Seeley district school house. Philip Manchester will give a poultry talk and County Agent Carrigan will talk on clover and alfalfa, and the benefits to be derived in raising these crops.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED ON DEATH OF MISS DEWEY.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Miss Carrie Dewey the women's societies of St. Stephen's church have lost an efficient and valuable member. She was president of the Woman's Aid for several years, successfully filling that responsible post. As delegate she has represented the Woman's Auxiliary at its diocesan conventions.

Whatever she undertook she did thoroughly and well. Her cheerful, helpful spirit was an inspiration to all her fellow-workers.

A woman of strong convictions, it meant much to win her allegiance. Until failing health prevented, she was glad to spend and be spent for a cause that was dear to her. To one who labored so faithfully under the handicap of ill health, the end is a release and a reward. Requiescat in pace.
